VISION 2025

In Sandviken, the world is always present
Here we feel at home and make each other better

We care about each other, react and take action

We have a tolerant and equal society with closeness between people who grow up, live and grow old in security. We feel safe in any environment.

Together we create an open and democratic society

In our process of change, we see the entire municipality's unique needs and we support local development. Here you are given the opportunity to realize dreams and life projects. We make each other better, seeing that diversity enriches our society and we dare to challenge and create change. Municipal activities meet people's needs.

Shared responsibility - a united society

Whether we are boy or girl, man or woman, we all have the same opportunities and responsibilities. It's about knowledge, attitude, power, safety and treatment.

In Sandviken, the world is always present

Through our joint development with Sandvik and other international companies, we have a global platform. International exchange enriches our society. A diverse business community with many contractors and culture workers is our springboard to the future.

The active city - full of life and movement

Sandviken is a young city with open meeting places for all, marked by international proximity and presence. We develop communication between people and places.

We learn for life

We see the lifelong learning and the opportunity for education as critical success factors, both for society and the individual. Our unique position in engineering and information technology has been built in collaboration between schools and business.

Our environment - our responsibility

In Sandviken, environmental issues are important. We have learned to live and work within nature's limits. We work for a long-term sustainable development.

We feel good, in body and soul

Through our innovative sports-, culture- and outdoor life, we have a unique living environment for ourselves and our guests. It contributes to the quality of life, health and growth.
